

PSYCHIC SUNDAYS WITH JEFFREY WANDS

BY CHRISTINE MONTANTI

It's almost nine in the evening and every green light is flashing on the board of the Walk 97.5 FM radio station. The phone lines have been blowing up nonstop for hours from nationwide callers eagerly waiting to speak to tonight's incredible host. The energy in the contemporary building is exhilarating. Lyrics sung by the musical artist Pink play throughout the studio as the Sunday night Mets game previews on a large flat screen TV against the wall. I am seated in front of the controls of the newly renovated studio, watching the producer make final preparations for the live broadcast. Standing next to me, in front of a large microphone, is world renowned psychic medium Jeffrey Wands, a man so extraordinary, with a supernatural talent so profound, its boundaries seem limitless.

Every Sunday evening Jeffrey hosts his own radio show, Psychic Sundays, on Walk 97.5 FM. Jeffrey, known for his unique ability to communicate with the dead, has become one of the nation's most sought-after and acclaimed psychics. He has made numerous appearances on TV shows, such as, The Today Show, Extreme Makeover: Home Edition, Maury, and A&E's Mediums: We See Dead People. Jeffrey has authored several bestselling books, including The Psychic in You, Another Door Opens, and Dream Interpretations. In addition to hosting the weekly radio show, Jeffrey also hosts seminars across the nation, and his international directory of clients will wait up to a year to meet with him.

Inside the adult contemporary radio station there is a table full of catered Italian-styled food neatly spread out on a table directly across from where Jeffrey is standing. While the producer is screening calls, Jeffrey turns toward me and graciously asks if I would like to have something to eat. Completely focused on tonight's radio show, I politely decline. Determined to understand how Jeffrey receives his psychic knowledge, I begin to observe him. I watch as he takes out a notebook and pen from his briefcase. He writes down the names of the first three callers on hold. He glances at the Mets game, scrolls through his cell phone, and then directs the producer to take the first caller, a woman named Pat.

"Hi, Jeffrey," Pat says enthusiastically.

Before Pat has an opportunity to reveal anything, Jeffrey blurts out, "Hi, Pat, your mom has passed. Is that correct?"

"Yes," Pat responds.

Jeffrey begins to speak rapidly as he adds, "She had respiratory and breathing issues before she passed?"

"Yes!" Pat says, sounding amazed.

Jeffrey continues, "She is standing with two ladies. One would be grandma, and there is also an aunt figure that is coming through with her."

"That is correct," Pat says.

Jeffrey is looking straight ahead at the controls on the board as he continues. "What would February represent?"

"We have a birthday in February," Pat's says.

"Mom is acknowledging the birthday. She wants you to know that she did find her peace. She says you have her role now: you have become her."

"Yes, I understand that," Pat replies.

"What is going on with your husband's right shoulder?"

Jeffrey asks.

"He is having shoulder pain. Is it going to get better? Will he be able to return back to work?"

"It will get better and I see him back at work," Jeffrey responds.

"Your mom has her hands up like you have to be patient. I know things have been difficult but things are going to start working themselves out."

"I have a question regarding my daughter. Do you see her getting married anytime soon?" Pat asks inquisitively.

"Not in the immediate future but in the next two years, and you will be very happy with the guy."

"Is it the guy she is with now?" Pat asks.

"Yes, it absolutely is. I just hope you like twins because she is going to have twins."

Pat hesitates for a moment seemingly amazed and then she responds, "Well that's perfect because I am a twin."

And just like that, without Pat giving Jeffrey any information, Jeffrey was able to communicate with Pat's mother who passed away and provide her information on her husband's health and daughter's future. The entire time Jeffrey was on the phone with Pat I was studying him. I could not figure out how he was receiving this information. The knowledge appeared to be received telepathically and instantaneously by him. I question Jeffrey on how he obtains this psychic information. "Once I hear the caller's voice the deceased family members will start popping in," Jeffrey tells me. I ask him if it is similar to a visual projection. "It's more like a moving image, like watching a movie," he explains. Jeffrey directs the producer to take the next caller, a man named Joseph.

"Jeffrey's here. He is ready to take your call," the producer tells Joseph.

"Hey, Joe," Jeffrey says.

"Hey, Jeffrey, I was wondering if you could tell me some things about my father?" Joseph asks.

Jeffrey interrupts Joseph while he is speaking.

"Who is the other Joseph that has passed?"

"Joe Bear?" Joseph asks.

"Yes," Jeffrey answers.

"He is my cousin," Joseph replies.

"He popped in first," Jeffrey says.

Joseph begins to laugh hysterically.

"He says he is with the old man. Not that I should say that your dad is old," Jeffrey explains.

Joseph continues to laugh.

"Your dad didn't feel like he had closure because of how quickly he passed. He is standing in front of me so this would be dad's way of letting me know that he found his peace. Because of how suddenly his passing was in the end, he never got a chance to put things in order. Now what would the union connection be? Who worked for the union?"

"My uncle Mario," Joseph responds.

"I have the whole entourage here," Jeffrey says.

"I bet you do!" Joseph replies.

"He is also standing with his mom," Jeffrey adds.

"Really?" Joseph asks surprised. "My grandmother Rose?"

"Yes. Rose is here, and there is a Mary or Marie that is also coming through."

"Wow!" Joseph says. "They also want me to tell you that the dog is here, so the dog is with them too."

"No!" Joseph says in disbelief. Joseph begins to cry loudly.

"Yes. Just so you know," Jeffrey says.

"My puppy is with him?" Joe asks.

"Yes, he is right by your dad's side."

"Thank you," Joseph says as he continues to sob.

"Your father is very proud of you. You need to take your best step forward, forget the past and start concentrating on the present." Jeffrey explains. "Focus on yourself and your future. Your dad says this is the most important four to six months."

"Yes that's right," Joe says.

"Don't mess it up! I don't think you will. Your dad is reminding me to tell you that you don't have any room for any kind of mess up."

"I just hope he's proud," Joe says.

"Joe, what did I say to you? Have confidence in yourself. Your dad is teasing and says you're mom's favorite."

"You knowing about my dog gives me validation about everything you've told me," Joe says.

"Thanks for spending Sunday nights with us," Jeffrey responds.

The abundance of information that Jeffrey gave to Joe was so powerful and insightful that Joe was overcome with emotion during their telephone conversation. Toward the end of discussion, Joe's voice revealed a sense of relief and he became very optimistic about the future. It was obvious that this call with Jeffrey comforted Joe and brought him a level of peace.

Jeffrey went on to take approximately 30 more calls and, surprisingly, half of the callers were male. With each and every caller, Jeffrey was able to provide detailed messages from loved ones who passed away. He also gave callers accurate information about events that were currently happening in their lives, and offered them psychic information about their future. Jeffrey's energy was extremely soothing when he was speaking to callers. He was compassionate in his delivery of the knowledge that he gave to each individual. Having had the privilege to accompany Jeffrey during his live radio broadcast, I can genuinely say that Jeffrey is an individual of a higher power, godlike, a truly gifted and brilliant man with paranormal abilities.
